College Senior Fatally Hurt As Car Goes In Ditch

J. Thomas Reed Dies Following Accident Near Crandon Saturday Night
FOUR OTHERS UNINJURED
Driver Pinned Underneath Car When It Leaves Road at Sharp Turn

J. Thomas Reed, 22, Lawrence college senior, was fatally injured in an automobile accident Saturday night when his Stutz touring car capsized in a ditch at a curve in a road near Crandon. He died of internal injuries two hours later as he was being conveyed to a hospital at Leona.

Frank Jones of 675 Park Ave., Glen Williams of Wabeno, an employee of the G. W. Jones Lumber company, and Miss Charlotte Armstrong of Green Bay, were occupants of the car, but were uninjured. Traveling with the same party but in another car ahead were Burt Fisher and Willard Eggers, also of Appleton, and a sister of Miss Armstrong who assisted young Reed after the accident.

The Stutz car was following directly behind the other automobile, keeping a few hundred feet back. When the two cars had reached a point of about two miles west of Crandon at about midnight Saturday night on their way to Wabeno, the occupants of the first car missed the headlight of the Stutz. They waited a short time and when the expected party failed to arrive, they turned back, worried over what had happened like a crash a few minutes previous.

CAR TIPPED OVER
The wrecked car had turned completely over in the ditch at the curve, and although the other occupants were free, the injured man was pinned underneath the car by his overcoat. The passengers accompanying Reed suffered no more than bruises and scratches, and the driver himself bore no outward marks of injury, but he complained of pain in the region of his abdomen.

They drove to Crandon and obtained the services of a physician for the injured man. The doctor said an operation was necessary and since there is no hospital in Crandon, Reed was taken in a taxicab to one in Leona. He died on the way.

It was a foggy night, according to the other persons in the party, and the windshield of the first car was constantly clouded with moisture. It is believed that this condition also interfered with the view of Reed at the curve and resulted in the accident. Others are of the opinion that one of the wire wheels of the car was imperfect.

Reed had one more year in which to finish his studies at Lawrence college. For several days he had quarters in the Phi Alpha Kappa fraternity house on South St., but had started north on a trip for the Mory Ice Cream company, which employed him as a salesman.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Zebell, who operate a fur farm at Watertown, and is an only child of Mrs. Zebell of a former marriage. Before coming to Lawrence college, he had studied at the University of Wisconsin. The body was to be conveyed to Watertown for burial.

Ninety-two candidates were admitted.

MOVIE PATRONS ROUTED BY TEAR GAS ATTACKS
New York—Police of Ossining, Port Chester and Stamford co-operated Sunday in a search for the persons who loosed tear gas in the three movie theatres owned by John Untermyer. All the patrons had to leave. According to the police, Untermyer had differences with union members.

KNIFE GIVES LODGE CHANCE TO BEAT DEATH

Senior Senator from Massachusetts Faces Second Operation

Cambridge, Mass.—Henry Cabot Lodge, senior senator from Massachusetts, lay in a hospital here Monday utilizing all the strength of his 74 years to recover from the effects of an operation performed Sunday afternoon after a critical recurrence of a former ailment.

Early morning reports from the hospital Monday said that the senator was as well as could be expected following so severe a test of his vitality. The attending physicians said that the operation, which was for removal of an obstruction in the bladder, would have to be followed by another, not an unusual necessity in the case of this disorder, they explained.

The senator who had been under a physician's care since his return to his Nahant home a month ago, suddenly became seriously ill Sunday morning. He was hurried to the hospital here and after a consultation his physicians decided to operate. Mr. Lodge, in good spirits and remarkable condition for his age, rallied quickly and regained consciousness Sunday night. His continued recuperation depends entirely on his own strength, the physicians said.

The second operation that will be necessary to complete the removal of the bladder obstruction responsible for the senator's condition may take place any time that his condition indicates it advisable, according to the doctor. A test will be made within the next two or three days to determine the best probable time for the operation, he said.

EKERN PLANS START OF DRIVE FOR CASH

Attorney General Returns from Washington to Begin Work for La Follette

By Associated Press
Madison—Attorney General Herman L. Ekern returned to Madison Monday from Washington to lay plans for taking active charge of the financial drive of the La Follette presidential campaign. He will return to Chicago within a few days to begin the drive for funds, he announced.

Senator La Follette's name will go on ballots in West Virginia, Oklahoma, Nevada, and other states where it was doubtful if the Wisconsin senator's name could be included, Mr. Ekern declared.

He has just returned from West Virginia where the legal technicalities of the situation there were ironed out, he said.

Ekern was named financial director for La Follette in Washington Saturday.

Blame Drunken Drivers For Injuries To Three People
Because Merle "Duke" Schnoor of Neenah persisted in driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition, he wrecked a Milwaukee car containing nine people about 2 o'clock Sunday morning on the Appleton-Menasha road. One of the occupants, Mrs. N. C. Brantmeier, who is a sister of Mrs. Michael Wagner, Jr., Story St., is in Theda Clark hospital at Neenah in a serious condition.

Mrs. Brantmeier suffered a broken nose and a deep cut on her forehead and because of her delicate condition is in a serious state.

The Milwaukee people left about 10 o'clock Saturday night for High Cliff and Appleton to visit relatives. When they reached Menasha they took the wrong road and about 2 o'clock Sunday morning were on their way to Appleton instead of High Cliff.

U.S. Demands Safety From Persian Mob

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Acting Secretary Grew of the state department announced Monday the despatch of "vigorous representations" to Tehran, as a result of the assault on Mrs. Katherine Imbrie, widow of Vice Consul Imbrie, who was killed recently by a Persian mob. The communication sent to Minister Kornfeld protested against the situation in Persia, which culminated in the unprovoked attack on Mrs. Imbrie. It was supplementary to a state department note dealing more generally with the conditions existing in Persia and covering the vice consul's death.

The communication delivered to the Persian foreign minister on Saturday indicated that the United States expected the Teheran government to meet the expense of sending an American war vessel to bring home the body of Vice Consul Imbrie and to furnish military guards for the American legation and consulate for such time as might be necessary.

A flat statement was made that continuance of American diplomatic consulate representation in Persia "will be dependent upon the action which the Persian government may take in this case to vindicate the international law."

OSHKOSH WRECK PILES UP TRAIN, HOUSE AND BARN

Traffic on Soo Line Tied Up Until Midnight By Spectacular Mishap

Oshkosh—The home of John Rucks, was wrecked, a large frame barn owned by Joseph Radl was totally demolished and traffic over the Soo line was tied up until after midnight Sunday when five box cars loaded with timber and bark in freight train No. 3038 pyramided in a spectacular jam as the train was entering the city from the north about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The wreck was one of the most disastrous on the treacherous "S" curve through Oshkosh since a Soo line locomotive and several cars jumped the track at the Pearl-st crossing a number of years ago.

Several thousand dollars damage was done both in the destruction of the railroad and private property. The Rucks family waiting at West Bloomfield Sunday were made homeless and the contents of the Radl barn destroyed.

While a number of theories were advanced as to the cause of the pile-up, the responsibility was placed on the failure of the road bed by officials. The wreck created a holiday spectacle for thousands of Oshkosh residents and visitors. People were attracted from every part of the city and a curious throng hovered near the scene until after midnight when the road was finally cleared and traffic resumed. No one was hurt.

Two small children were injured when struck by an automobile driven by Harry Schultz, 1021 Freedom-rd, at 6:10 Saturday evening on Outagamie-st. Schultz was placed under arrest on two charges, one for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and the other for failure to stop and render aid to injured persons.

Schultz, who was accompanied by a sailor from the Great Lakes training station, was driving south on Outagamie-st and was blocked by a passenger train which had stopped at the crossing. Turning back in the direction he had come from, he drove his car into the two boys, Edward DeVoe, 2 and William DeVoe, 5, both sons of William DeVoe, 407 Outagamie-st. The older of the two boys was riding a velocipede which was damaged in the accident.

The younger boy suffered a cut on the left side of the forehead and the older boy was cut on both knees as he was hit while riding the tricycle. He was also injured slightly in the abdomen. After police had traced the car to Army G. Schultz is said to have denied knowledge of the ownership of his car. But the identity of the owner was learned by the police in a telephone call to Milwaukee where a daily record of automobile licenses is kept. Schultz was arraigned in municipal court Monday morning and placed under $100 bail to guarantee his appearance in court Tuesday.

159 JAPS DIE WHEN FREIGHT STEAMER SINKS

Eighteen Passengers and Five Members of Crew Escape in Small Boats

By Associated Press
Tokyo—One hundred and fifty nine persons were drowned in the wreck of the steamship Taipei Maru off Cape Notoro, northeast of Hokkaido at 10:35 Sunday night, says a dispatch to the Asahi, a leading Tokyo newspaper.

The Taipei Maru normally is a freighter steamship, but was carrying a number of passengers. She is operated by the North Japan Steamship Co. between the Island of Saghalien and Hokkaido, northernmost of the main Japanese islands. She was bound for Otaru at the time of the wreck. She is a vessel of 1,240 tons. The Asahi's dispatch came from Toyohara, a town of Saghalien. The ship carried 138 passengers and a crew of 54 members. Eighteen passengers and five members of the crew survived, reaching Toyohara in life boats. The cause of the wreck is obscure. The Asahi's dispatch says it resulted from a collision with the Kamikura Maru, a vessel belonging to the Kishimoto Steamship Co. of Osaka, but advice to the Nichi Nichi, another leading paper, declare it was due to striking rocks. This dispatch came from Otaru. All aboard the ship were Japanese.

FIND YOUNG WIDOW BOUND AND SLAIN

Police Seek Clue to Murder of Pretty Woman Left Nude and Beaten

By Associated Press
Rapeer, Mich.—Baffled by the mysterious slaying last Sunday of Mrs. Blanch Burke, pretty 28-year-old widow, officials continued Monday to cast about for a clue to her assailant. The woman's body, stripped of clothing, was found early Sunday, the hands and feet bound with a wire and the body a mass of bruises.

Mrs. Burke who was employed at the Michigan Home and Training School, a state institution for the abnormal, failed to return to her home from the school on Saturday night. About midnight Mrs. Albert Pierce, with whom she lived, telephoned the school and E. J. Walker, the superintendent, with Mrs. Pierce started to search for her.

Making a close examination along the road from the school to Mrs. Burke's residence, they found a place where the grass appeared to be beaten down as if something had been dragged across it. Following the matted grass they came upon the body in a glade some distance from the road. None of the woman's clothing was found and the only clue was a pair of cuff links of a make sold at a store near the school. County authorities said Mrs. Burke had not been criminally attacked. Friends said that as far as they knew she had no enemies.

HOGS FOLLOW WHEAT IN BIG PRICE JUMP

By Associated Press
Chicago—There was big increase of trading in corn Monday the volume of transactions eclipsing at times the extent of business wheat. May delivery of corn sold at $1.00 a bushel, the highest price ever known for that delivery at this season of the year under normal conditions.

In connection with the bulge in corn values, the hog market went soaring. Hogs showed an advance of 20 cents a hundredweight since Saturday. The hog market was up to $10.50, surpassing predictions a few weeks ago that hogs would reach $10.00 by Oct. 1.

U. S. DRY COMMISSIONER TAKES HAND AT WAUSAU

LaFollette Boom May Throw Fall Election Into Complete Chaos

If Radicals Obtain Enough Votes to Throw Voting Into House Neither Davis Nor Coolidge Could Win.

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—If Senator LaFollette and his associates succeed in their ambition to obtain sufficient electoral votes to throw the presidential election into the house of representatives, five of the sovereign American states, would find themselves unable to vote and it would be this disability which would make it impossible for either President Coolidge or John W. Davis to secure a majority vote of the 48 commonwealths.

It is no mere speculation that a deadlock would ensue in the house if it is a mathematical certainty, unless of course some Democrat or Republican should break away from party affiliations sufficiently to throw some of the tied states into either the Davis or Coolidge column.

EACH STATE HAS VOTE
In voting for a president, where a majority election has not been made in the regular election, the constitution provides that each state delegation in the house of representatives shall have but one vote. It is the under rule of the Democratic national convention carried to the extreme. New York state for instance has 43 representatives in the house. Twenty-two are Democrats and twenty-one are Republicans. Therefore New York's one vote would go to Davis if all the Democratic representatives stuck together for him.

The constitution also provides that to be successful a presidential candidate must receive a majority of the states. It so happens that there are 20 state delegations in the house controlled by Democrats, and 23 controlled by Republicans. This leaves five states in which the number of Republicans and Democrats is the same. It is to be presumed that these Democrats and Republicans would stick true to their colors thus making it impossible for the states to vote one way or the other.

The tied states are Maryland, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, and New Jersey.

RESULT REMAINS SAME
A majority in the electoral college necessarily is 265 so it will be seen that even though the constitutional rule of only one vote to each state, whether that state be New York with 43 representatives or New Mexico with just one lone congressman would seem at first glance to be thoroughly unrepresentative, the result happens to pan out just about the same.

The same states that can not represent a majority in the house under the one vote rule would fall five votes short of giving a majority in the electoral college.

It would take 25 states to elect in the house. The Republicans fall two short of that number; the Democrats five. Therefore under the constitution the senate would be called upon to elect a vice president who in turn would become president in view of the failure of the house to act.

In the senate each senator has a vote, but unless the Democrats or the Republicans could win over some of the LaFollette group of senators there could be no result in that body. There is a general presumption that the LaFollette outfit in the end might vote for Mr. Bryan, the Democrat, as against General Dawes, the Republican.

In case neither president nor vice president is chosen by March 4 next, Secretary Hughes would become acting president and call the new congress into session to elect the chief executive of the nation.

So much of chaos abounds in the possibilities of throwing the election into congress it is small wonder that both Democrats and Republicans are trying their utmost to avoid such a contingency.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Beginning the second week of the trial of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr. for the kidnapping and slaying of 14-year-old Robert Franks. Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney called handwriting experts in furtherance of what he has termed his "perfect hanging case."

John Tyrell of Milwaukee, a handwriting expert with a record of appearances in this capacity at more than 200 important trials, identified the original ransom letter which demanded $10,000 from Jacob M. Franks, father of the slain boy, and another letter left in the parlor car for Mr. Franks as having been written on an Underwood portable typewriter, a battered Underwood, faded, trocked Jackson loagon, where according to their confession Loeb and Leopold had tossed it, previously had been introduced in evidence.

The train letter directed Mr. Franks to toss money securely tied from the moving train at a designated place. As Mr. Tyrell explained to Chief Justice John R. Caverly in whose hands their fate finally will rest, Leopold and Loeb strained forward to catch a sight of the type-writing specimen which had guided Mr. Tyrell in his determination and which had been passed to defense counsel. They exchanged a few smiling confidences over these.

WAIVE IDENTIFICATIONS
As Mr. Tyrell waded through the exhibits with his professional explanations and reasons for conclusions, Attorney Darrow of the defense counsel, to save time, informed Judge Caverly that the defense was satisfied with the identifications and Judge Caverly quickly permitted waiving of precise identifications and explanations.

Exhibits in the case reached 114 at this stage.

The day opened with another indication that the defense was not through with the accusation that Leopold had hoped to escape death by pleading guilty "before a friendly judge." Police Sergeant James J. Gortland who quoted this alleged remark was back on the stand to correct a detail of his testimony, on which he made notes of his talk. Mr. Darrow took advantage of the opportunity to question him closely as to the identity of persons with whom he discussed the alleged remarks at Fairbury, Ill., and Bloomington. It was indicated this part of the sergeant's story would be checked up.

GORTLAND CALLED BACK
Court opened promptly at 10 A. M. For the first time since the trial opened, Loeb appeared wearing a four-in-hand tie in place of his usual precise bow. Leopold wore his usual dark four-in-hand.

Robert E. Crowe, states attorney, called back to the stand Sergeant James J. Gortland saying he wished the witness to identify some of the notes from which read the bombshell of last Friday when he quoted Leopold as wishing to plead guilty before a "friendly judge." The questioning had to do largely with the exact dates on which Gortland made the various memoranda. Judge Caverly frowned and shook his head as the tedious process continued. Attorney's Darrow and Crowe conferred briefly as to the purpose of the state, the former nodding and starting a cross examination.

"Mr. Officer," Mr. Darrow said, "you now say these certain sheets were written on July 24. You wrote them all at home and at the same time?"

"Yes, sir," said Gortland.

"Did you testify the other day that these six sheets now marked exhibit four, were written at different times?"

"I was mistaken," Gortland said.

BEG 'LIFT.' THEN SLUG AUTOIST WHO STOPPED FOR THEM

Summer Camper Badly Injured
But Sluggers Fail to Get His Car

Oshkosh — Forced to flee on foot after they had slugged a motorist who had given them a "lift," in a plot to steal the car, two men were captured by a sheriff's posse in a field near Winneconne, and are being held at the Winneconne county jail.

The sluggers' victim, Richard Beaus, Chicago, is in a serious condition at a hospital here. He may have concussion of the brain, according to physicians, but was able to identify the two prisoners as the men who attacked him.

The captives gave their names as Steve Lookey and Joe Stahola, and their homes as Chicago. A third man, arrested with them, said he was Rudolph Rahoek, Chicago. Officials here announced that the records of the three would be investigated thoroughly.

STRUCK WITH WRENCH
Beaus was driving to his summer cottage at Butte Des Morts when he met the two men as they were leaving an auto which was standing by the roadside, apparently disabled, according to his story. He offered them a ride, and one got into the front seat with him, the other taking the rear seat.

A little farther on the man in the back seat struck Beaus over the head with a monkey wrench. Half unconscious from the blow, the driver lost control of the machine and it went into the ditch. The men then hit him several more blows.

THEFT PLOT ADMITTED
In a confession made after they were identified by the victim, the two prisoners, according to the sheriff, stated that the object of their plot was to steal Beaus' auto, but that they were unable to get it out of the ditch, although they made strenuous efforts to do so. The two fled into a corn field when passing autoists stopped at the scene of the wreck.

These passersby brought Beaus to the hospital and notified the sheriff. Poses were started out at once to hunt the assassins, and they were captured about two hours later in an open field, where they were preparing to spend the night.

Joseph Hantschel and Cyril Kornely rode to Monroes hill Sunday on horseback, covering a distance of more than 55 miles.

Safest To Carry Water On Journey

"Be careful of your water supply if you value your health" is the warning of Dr. William C. Felton, city health officer gives to those who contemplate camping trips. Dr. Felton advises that only city water or purified water be used.

People, Dr. Felton said, generally believe that artesian or drilled well water is pure, but he declared this was not always true and that the only safe water is that which is purified by the city or municipality. It is safe to drink city water because the state health department keeps a close watch on it and investigates every indication of impurity the health officer said.

Dr. Felton urged that campers carry water with them if they know they will be in a region where pure water is hard to secure. Another suggestion he made was that water suspected of being impure be boiled, as this insures its fitness for use.

Last summer three cases of diphtheria came to the health officers' attention from people who contracted it on camping trips.

A good camp ground, the doctor said, is one that is high and dry. His other suggestions to campers are that food be protected from flies and other insects and that a medicine kit for minor injuries is necessary in any camp equipment.

ENGINEER PILES FREIGHT IN 'HEAP TO SAVE AUTOIST

Cars of Derailed String Move
House Foundation—No
One Is Hurt

Oshkosh—An auto stalled at Scott's crossing, Oshkosh. A heavy freight train loaded with lumber, bearing down on it. Result, one of the most spectacular railroad wrecks on the Soo Line railroad. No one was hurt.

To avoid hitting the automobile the engineer of the freight engine jammed his air brakes so tightly that the entire train telescoped and leaped the track. Several cars broke from the train and crashed through a house at 15 Scott's, knocking the house from its foundations. Another part of the train wrecked a barn in the rear of the house.

The owners of the house, Frank L. Sullivan and family, were away for the day, thus escaping death. The railroad track was torn up for more than 200 feet and virtually the entire population of Oshkosh gathered to watch the work of the wrecking crews. Parts of the railroad track were found more than fifty feet away from the right of way.

Perhaps the most peculiar feature of the wreck is that the engine, around which many freight cars wrapped themselves, remained on the track and the engineer and crew were unhurt.

It is expected that spur tracks will be run around to facilitate movement of traffic.

DEPERE BUILDER GETS TWO COUNTY BRIDGE CONTRACTS

City of Appleton Must Revertise for Leminwah-st
Paving Bids

Contracts for construction of two bridges were both awarded to Patrick Garvey of West DePere by the county highway committee Friday afternoon. His bid of $17.75 per cubic yard of concrete on the Van Bovel bridge, Onelda, and his bid of $18 a cubic yard on the Van Lanen bridge, also of Onelda, were the lowest submitted. Both bridges are girder type the former being a 30-foot span with approximately 180 cubic yards of concrete, the later a 40-foot span with about 200 cubic yards of concrete.

Other contractors who submitted bids were: Wunderlich and Ort, Hortonville, $23 on the VanBoxel and VanLanen; Vandevort & Beugerd, Little Chute, $19.50 on each; Robert Hann, Appleton, $19.25 on each; Hoffman Construction company, $22.50 on each; Simpson & Parker, Appleton, $21.50 on the VanBoxel and $19.50 on the VanLanen; Henry Sprister, $19 on each; Charles Appleton, R. 3, Kaukauna, $18.25 on the VanBoxel, and $19.25 on the Van Lanen.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., appeared before the committee with reference to the construction of three blocks of concrete pavement on Leminwah-st which is part of highway 15 and for which the city is receiving state and county aid. He presented the plans and specifications to William H. Lang, divisional

CHURCHES MUST BE LEADERS IN OUTLAWING WAR

Dr. Plantz Points Out How Churches Can Help in Peace Day Address

War was diveded of all the dazzling splendor with which its proponents have sought to clothe it and revealed in its revolting aspects by Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, in an address at the peace mass meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening.

Not only did he strip warfare of its accustomed glory, but affirmed its utter incompatibility with the Christian religion. He emphasized that it is the duty of the Christian church to oppose war, and showed the means which the church might use to combat militarism which, he said, is rampant even in America. A campaign of education, a strong organization for concentration of effort and wholehearted cooperation with legislators in all worthy peace measures were described as methods to attain the end.

The attendance was large in spite of the sweltering heat. An excellent musical program of several appropriate vocal numbers rendered by George Nixon prepared the audience for the address. The Rev. J. L. Menzner presided over the meeting. The Rev. H. A. Bernhard read the scripture lesson, the Rev. Virgil Scott gave the invocation and Dr. J. A. Holmes pronounced the benediction.

CAUSES OF WAR
Calling attention to the tenth anniversary of the World war which the World Peace Union and World Alliance and World Peace Foundation are commemorating by arousing sentiment against war, Dr. Plantz reviewed some of the causes which led to the great conflict. Among these he enumerated national jealousy and hate, imperialism, economic rivalry, secret treaties, military alliances, scheming diplomacy and competitive armaments.

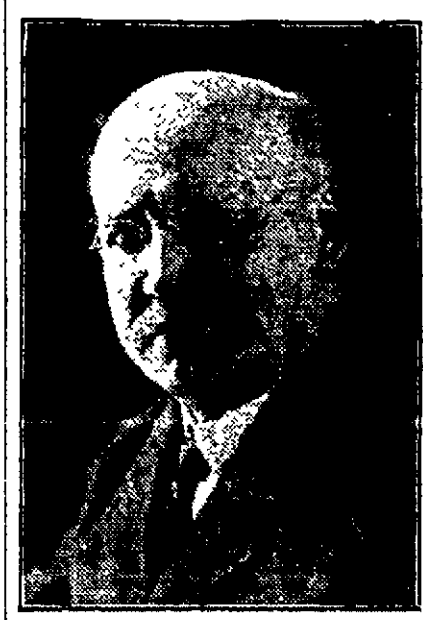

Next by way of introducing his subject, the speaker pointed out some of the grave consequences of the World war. It resulted in the taking of 9,000,000 human lives, the crippling of 20,000,000 persons and an outlay of $39,900,000,000, not to forget the famine, national bankruptcies, burden of debt, moral decline and spiritual waste.

"The world would have been better off today, had the war never occurred," he argued. "It has taught us the lesson that they who take the sword shall perish by the sword. We now are able after ten years to study the effect of this tragedy and the influence of militarism on civilization."

In speaking of the attitude of the Christian church on war, Dr. Plantz reminded his hearers that in the past the church has had no conscience on the subject. Although there was some preaching against war, churches in general maintained an attitude of aloofness and considered the matter the sole concern of the State. On the other hand, there was much eulogizing of war heroes and a general impression that war is a necessary function of the government.

That, he declared, was not the attitude of the Christian church of the first three centuries of its organization. In the days of Justin, Irenaeus, Tertullian, Alexander and other early church fathers, Christians saw only an incompatibility between war and the Christian religion. Thousands suffered martyrdom rather than enter the emperor's army. But when Constantine became emperor of the Roman empire, church and state became practically united and resulted in an edict that no one can be a true Christian who refuses to be a soldier. In the years that followed there was much shedding of Christian blood.

Peace Leader

DR. SAMUEL PLANTZ

CHRISTIANS REVOLT
Since the last war, the speaker observed, there has been a great reawakening among Christians and a revolt against the settling of disputes by the sacrifice of human lives. So widespread has been this movement among the denominations, that strong counter movements are beginning to germinate. Dr. Plantz said, General Pershing has issued a pamphlet in which he upholds defensive warfare and maintains that the Christian church has always sanctioned wars of defense. The secretary of war, the speaker pointed out, has called a mobilization day for a date in September in an effort to combat the influence of the peace workers.

DOCTRINE OF HATRED
But the real attitude of a Christian should be to avert all future wars, and the first reason he mentioned in support of this statement is that there can be no harmony between war and the principles of the Christian religion.

"War is the doctrine of hatred," he said, "but Christianity is the doctrine of love. War teaches persecution of the enemy, Christianity teaches to do good to the enemy and not persecute. Christ never sanctioned blood shedding. The war system and the Christ system can't stand together."

"A second reason why Christians should oppose war," he argued, "is because of the strange and uncertain contradiction that war places the church into. In the time of the war the people in the Central powers daily prayed to God for his blessing upon their arms and the ultimate victory. Across the Rhine Christians were praying that God might bless them so they could kill enough of the Germans. No wonder many people became disgusted and left the church. You can't make God a tribal deity; you can't make Him a Jekyll and Hyde; you can't ask God to bless each of two people trying to cut each other's throats; you can't have a house divided against itself, for it will not stand."

DAMAGE TO MORALS
Next the speaker cited the moral injury war causes as another reason why Christians should oppose war.

"War induces nations to deceive the people by publishing false reports about victories and defeats; to publish false propaganda about the enemy's atrocities. War brings out the worst passions and hatreds of man. It breeds freedom of the sexes and a wave of crime."

The mission of the Church is to be the conscience of the State, and this he sets forth as another reason for Christian opposition to war. The state is secular and has nationalistic interests and seeks to advance its power. It needs Christian idealism for the foundation of the State, and it needs fearless preachers crying, "Thus saith the Lord," as in the days of old, he challenged.

CHURCHES MUST LEAD
Another reason why the Church must take the initiative in the peace movement is that the state is not apt to put on any world peace program, he maintained. The State is organized with a war department, it has its army and navy, its military and naval institutions, its officers and its forces, who naturally are interested in the things for which they are trained. They believe that war is essential to national security and defense and therefore yearly spend vast amounts in its support. At the Washington disarmament conference America agreed to build no more battle-ships for ten years, but since then it has been building cruisers, submarines, submarine chaser in astounding rates. This year $500,000,000 was asked for national defense, $300,000,000 of which has already been granted by congress. The speaker characterized the present secretary of war as the most aggressive militarist in the country. European nations also are spending more money for preparedness than they did the year before the war.

The last reason Dr. Plantz cited to urge Christians to combat war, he said, was the fact that Christianity has it within its power to make war impossible. If it took the stand it took in the first three centuries of the Christian era, there would be no war, he said. He quoted the British Gen. Haig as saying, "The church's business is to do away with my business."

He also quoted the American Gen. Tasker Bliss as saying: "The responsibility rests upon you. If there will ever be another war, you Christians will be responsible for every drop of blood spilled." If Christendom with its 500,000,000 adherents were united in the main essentials, it could put war out of business, he said.

In pointing to the means that the churches may use to combat war, he not only stressed a campaign of education and strong organization for concentrated effort, but also the support of legislators in worthy peace measures. Various resolutions will be introduced in the next congress, among them a measure making war profiteering impossible, measures codifying international peace principles, a measure for organization of a world court, and the like.

COMPANY D HOME FROM ANNUAL CAMP

Members of the local guard, Company D, 127th Infantry, returned Saturday evening from Camp Douglas after two weeks' training there. Camp was broken Saturday by Wisconsin infantry, cavalry and tank corps guard units and the 3,500 men comprising these organizations were entrained by noon for their home stations.

Besides being the largest state encampment since the war, it has been rated as the best by regular army instructors on duty with the citizen soldiers.

Early Sunday morning the various state artillery units were to arrive at Camp Douglas for two weeks' field training. This second and last camp of the year will be considerably smaller than the first, 15,000 men and officers being present.

Postpone Meeting
The meeting of the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce which was held Monday evening has been postponed to Tuesday evening. The session will be held promptly at 7:15 to name committees for the better cities contest.

DEATHS

ROBERT H. LOVELAND
Robert Herman Loveland, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Loveland of Mishawaka, Ind., died Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Meyer, 457 Winnebago-st., where the child and his mother and brother were visiting. He is survived by his parents and one brother, John. The funeral will be held at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon from the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Miskimin, 62 Second-ave. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Loveland formerly was Miss Josephine Miskimin of Appleton.

MRS. MICHAEL BRAUTIGAN
Mrs. Michael Brautigan, 52, died Sunday evening at her home at 553 Main-st. She is survived by her widow, two children, George and Charles, eighteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Mrs. Brautigan had been a resident of Appleton since 1850.

Funeral will be held at 3:30 Wednesday morning from Sacred Heart church and interment will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

MRS. SOPHIA WITT
Mrs. Sophia Witt, 56, died Saturday at Ellington. She is survived by three sons, Charles and Fred of Unity, and John of Norfolk, Neb., also by five daughters, Mrs. John Bohl, Ellington,

GUARDSMAN SHOT IN FOOT AT CAMP

Clifford McCullough, son of Mrs. Alice McCullough, was shot in the foot Thursday when a machine gun discharged accidentally at Camp Douglas where he was in training. Mr. McCullough was taken Friday to St. Vincent hospital at La Crosse where the wound is being treated to prevent infection and the loss of the foot. He will be confined at the hospital for a few months.

Mrs. McCullough returned Sunday from La Crosse where she spent several days.

Mrs. William Riehl, Black Creek, Mrs. Fred Groth, Embarras, Mrs. John F. Scheer, Curtis, and Miss Emma Witt, Owen, also by thirty-eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. The funeral will take place at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Bohl, Ellington, and at 2 o'clock at the Ellington Lutheran church, with the Rev. E. Redlin conducting the services.

FRANCE AT THE LONDON CONFERENCE

The differences at the London conference appear to be whether an agreement shall be reached which is satisfactory to the bankers who are to be called upon to underwrite a loan of $200,000,000 to Germany, or whether it is to satisfy the political ends of France. The bankers in attendance at the conference insist upon adequate security for their loan, and take the position that if France is permitted, in case of default by Germany, to use independent means to collect reparations, it may jeopardize the security. Undoubtedly this is a correct view. If for any reason Germany should default, and France should engage in another Ruhr exploit, it is conceivable that Germany's power to pay might be destroyed. Furthermore, the motives of France might be political, and not based upon a true purpose to collect reparations.

While France dislikes to give up independent rights she claims to possess under the Versailles treaty, which would permit her to go outside the Dawes arrangement for redress, it is also natural that the financial interests of the world who are to underwrite the German loan demand adequate sanctions for their money. If the two positions are irreconcilable, the Dawes plan must fail. Those in attendance at the London conference, however, do not feel that the case is hopeless and that eventually France will modify her position, unless some scheme can be worked out which will recognize the right of France to act alone and at the same time protect the loan.

It would seem that since the Dawes plan offers the only feasible hope of preserving German solvency and of meeting the reparations obligations, it ought to be adopted and that France should stake her prospects of payment on this, and this alone. The whole question is a practical means of liquidating the German indemnity. M. Herriot would probably agree to the viewpoint of the other conferees if it were not for a political situation in France which threatens his overthrow if he makes concessions beyond the approval of the Poincare faction. However, it still appears likely that a settlement will be reached agreeable to all parties and that the conference will not fail.

HOW TO TELL AMERICANS

London editors and reporters have hit upon a simple plan to recognize visiting Americans. The big town is filled with delegates and friends attending the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. It is an American gathering, and the English journalists have a rare chance to study this human species in all of its climatic and territorial variations.

English newspaper men have observed that the American men wear straw hats, while the American women wear felt hats. Wherever they see the contrast of straw and felt hats they smile. It is said that they are having a lot of fun over this breach of style. They suspect that we are ignorant of harmony of fashion.

We had not noticed that men wear straw hats and women felt hats. However, we have seen many husbands wearing felt hats or cloth caps until midsummer, while wives have looked their brightest in the latest designs of straw. It may be that American advertising men had on only one new hat to take along, besides, perhaps, a silk stovepipe. Or, on the other hand, they have convinced their wives that they, being the breadwinners, meeting the public day after day, should be the first in seasonal style. But it may be that the women are shrewder than London editors surmise. The ladies may have to prevail on their husbands to buy new straw hats to wear in London and bring home to dazzle the green eyes of envious acquaintances.

HOW ABOUT DICKENS?

Litterati are discussing Dickens. Mr. Clifford Smyth recently said that the great English novelist has lost popular appeal, as his characters are of the past and the conditions which he described passed away long since. Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield, president of the New York Dickens Fellowship, gives a convincing answer to Mr. Smyth. "The fact," says Dr. Duffield, "that there is always a discussion going on whether Dickens is popular or not shows that he is still a live issue. Current magazines publish frequent articles by the best critics on his literary importance. Only lately a life insurance company got out an advertisement on which the phrase is printed, 'Are you Micawber?'"

The Christmas stories cannot possibly grow old. Several of the most popular and successful of modern plans have been founded on these tales. So have several books and stories. Scrooge is a perpetual character. Tiny Tim and the spirit of charity must live as long as hearts beat. "A Tale of Two Cities" is a dramatic novel which not only stirs the imagination but wakes the emotions. The fascinating interest contained in this story would be enough to immortalize it. When injustice and suffering cease no one will care to read "Two Cities." Is there a greater novel than "David Copperfield"? It describes human nature as human nature always has been and will be.

Dickens is quaint in some respects. Some of his characters are old-fashioned. Yet it is remarkable how modern he is. Many readers dislike him, as many more are enthusiastic about him. Very few novels could survive if only those having modern characters and describing modern conditions were acceptable. The fact that conditions and habits have changed does not mitigate against the novel whose persons and situations are of a former generation.

The fiction which lives is that which is human and which touches the heart or appeals to the imagination. It is that which appeals to the finest emotions, sympathies and aspirations. It is first of all clean, and second, it reaches to the foundations of life, not merely to the froth. There may be tragedy, but it must be softened with humor. It must deal ultimately with our true conceptions of what is right and just and enduring. Dickens wrote several masterpieces. It takes a work like "Vanity Fair" to compare with "David Copperfield." Few stories written since approach either in true literary greatness.

BUDGETING

"SAY, where in the deuce does our money all go?" What couples have never asked that? The answer is something they feel they should know or they never can tell just where they're at.

"It's the bane of her life to the dear little wife 'cause she worries 'bout money don't end. So her mate fondly kisses the worrying missus and says, 'We'll mark down what we spend!'"

A book just for budgeting's purchased that day. There are pages for every expense. At last they've discovered a neat little way to schedule their dollars and cents.

They sit by the table, abudgeting bent, till both of them near fall asleep. They'll keep perfect figures on what they have spent and they won't have to read 'em and weep.

"Oh, golly," says she, "think how happy we'll be for this budget will blot out our sorrow." The mister agrees but he says, "If you please, let us start on the budget tomorrow."

Tomorrow may come and tomorrow may go, and today, if you'll take a close look, the only real mark that the pages will show is the price that they paid for the book.

NAGGING AND CHORES

My daughter, write a New Jersey mother, had to leave school before the term was over, because she became so fretful, nervous and twitchy. As if she had St. Vitus' dance. She is 12 years old. The doctor said she had to give up school work because the teacher demanded so much homework and nagged her constantly if she failed to get it all written out each day.

Most cases of chorea (St. Vitus' dance, St. Anthony's dance) begin at about this child's age, and most cases occur in the spring—but I do not mean to say that is the end of winter's nagging in school. The cause of chorea is pretty definitely understood, infection of the brain and spinal cord by a streptococcus from diseased tonsils or other throat foci.

Overstudy is assigned as a common predisposing factor in the authoritative works on the subject. When a child under 15 has "homework" in addition to the ordinary four or five hours of school study, that constitutes overstudy.

The type of teacher that stresses "homework" is not representative of the best in teaching today. It is rather the antique, the poorly trained or untrained teacher, the left over from a discarded system, that delights in prodigies of "homework." The teacher whose aim and ambition is to develop frank memories, glories in homework. The teacher who strives to train the pupil to think and reason has little use for this practice. "Homework" is naturally a convenient alibi for the incompetent teacher.

But that is only one variety of nagging which school children have to submit to and which proves more than the frail ones can stand. The quaint practice of requiring pupils to preserve a graveyard silence in the study room still holds good in some of the badly managed schools and high schools. To require a child to sit prim and still for hours every day is unwarranted and inexcusable in any circumstances, and to prohibit casual whispering is just a favorite indoor sport of the martinet. The very height of this abuse of discipline or deportment is reached by certain teachers who even require the pupil to go through a rite or ceremony of asking permission to leave the school room to answer the calls of nature or to get a drink of water. Any teacher who practices such indignities on those at his or her mercy ought to be shelved for the good of the public health.

Discipline and proper order are necessary and desirable in the schooling of the young. But parents who have due regard for the best interests of their children will not hesitate to interfere when such cruelties as I have mentioned are perpetrated by neurotic teachers.

There is a form of nagging which thoughtless parents and doting relatives too frequently inflict upon children at home. "Don't do this," and "Don't do that," constantly dinning in the child's ears, without rhyme or reason, just thoughtlessly. This bad habit cannot fail to break down a child's morale.

Worse still is the habit of noticing, commenting upon or praising or deploring a child's peculiarities, "nervous" conduct, extraordinary doings or sayings, a habit which the parents of "spoiled," neurotic, hysterical and freak children seem to be strikingly fond of.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Teacher Had Wicked Wallop

When I was a schoolboy the teacher struck me over the head with a book, breaking the eardrum. It left me totally deaf in that ear. Is there anything that can be done to restore hearing in such a case? (E. P.)

Answer.—Probably not. Breaking or rupture of the eardrum, however, would not cause total deafness. A blow with a book may have injured the sensitive nerve apparatus of the inner ear, which would more likely account for total deafness. Many people with ruptured or broken eardrums have nearly normal hearing.

Flaxseed
Since you recommend unground flaxseed for the constipation habit I have been gratified with results. But the flaxseed I get here is mostly broken and contains rough looking particles. Where can one obtain clean flaxseed which you would consider suitable to take internally? (M. D. M.)

Answer.—Drug stores or groceries can obtain perfectly clean, whole flaxseed without difficulty. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service.)

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Monday, July 31, 1899.

Riverside Fibre company reported the loss of 1,000 pounds of bronze which was stolen from its plant.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller, State-st.

Joseph Reuter and Miss Marie Reuter of Kaukauna spent Sunday with Appleton friends.

Charles Sacksteder was spending his vacation on a farm a short distance from the city.

W. J. Rupp, formerly of Appleton, opened a new lunch counter and cigar stand at Green Bay.

Mrs. H. Jarchow and son and Miss Roe Appleton returned from a several weeks' camping trip to the northern part of the state.

Master Robert McCoy, son of the Rev. John McCoy, entertained a group of friends Saturday in honor of the ninth anniversary of his birthday.

Attorney Horace Tenney of Chicago was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tenney.

Ernest Heideman was presented with a gold headed cane by the reaper men in his employ.

Anton Boehm, who formerly ran a blacksmith shop on West College-ave, died Saturday at his home at Hortonville.

Work at the postoffice was to be greatly facilitated by the installation of a canceling machine.

Miss Nellie Hayes of Green Bay was the guest of Appleton friends.

TEN YEARS AGO

Monday, July 27, 1914.

Patrick McCarty, 92, died Saturday at his home in Freedom.

W. G. Jamison, president of Appleton Fair association, announced his candidacy for member of the assembly on the Republican ticket.

More horses were offered for sale at the monthly stock fair Saturday than had been seen on the local grounds for two years.

A check of $2,533 was received from the secretary of state at the county treasurer's office to cover the state's share of building new roads in Wisconsin and Freedom.

Mrs. Henry Hegner and Mrs. John Hegner went to Marquette to join their husbands who were engaged in construction work.

A plan was on foot looking toward the building of a concrete road between Green Bay and DePere on the east side of the river.

Dr. G. H. Holliday, who sold his home at the corner of Union and Washington-sts, to one of the college fraternities, purchased the Griswold property, corner of College-ave and Lawrence.

More than 100 members of the Riverside Country club attended the supper at the clubhouse Saturday evening.

Romance Is Still Found
In Sea Trade

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—Romance has not been rooted out of commerce by the substitution of steam for sails and steel for spices as the chief commodity carried in ships. Deep in the holds of oil burning cargo boats curious commodities recall the days of junks and galleons and pirates. Am-bergris from the Arctic coast up by sossick whales, feathers plucked from South African ostriches, sesamum seeds from Arabia, silks woven from the webs of industrious worms in China and Japan and skins of strange Siberian beasts appear in the lists of declared exports from foreign ports to the United States, along with prosaic products like Chilean nitrates, tin from Bolivia and rubber from tamo trees of the Malay Peninsula.
And among them are thousands of more modern things one seldom thinks of as articles of trade.

Commercial attaches, trade commissioners and consuls are daily transmitting to Washington inquiries from merchants in the farthest markets of the world for wares of strange and sometimes startling sort.

ALL OVER GLOBE

These inquiries, along with numerous other novel and interesting facts, reported from every corner of the globe, are published in the commerce department's weekly survey of foreign trade. A perusal of one issue of this publication will disclose that the world demands are still as diversified, and commerce as engaging and romantic as in the days of the clipper ships. Here are a few of the curious wants culled from one issue of "Commerce Reports."

From Belgium, scale to weigh diamonds; from Columbia, a suspension bridge 110 meters long; from waters Holland 1,000 pairs of skates; from India, machines for separating peas nuts from their shells; from Turkey, swivel chair mechanisms and advertising signs.

From Danzig, restored to its ancient commercial importance by the Versailles treaty, comes a request for apricot kernels—the inquirer does not state the use he means to put them to.
A merchant in Bordeaux wants
"bones and horn" and neat-foot oil.

A call for "match-making machinery from Germany" has matrimonial implications, but probably refers to un-scented sulphur sticks for lighting gas and cigarettes.

An inquiry from Dublin for alarm clocks indicates that after their fitful lives of recent years the wearers of the shamrock now sleep well. One from Java for string-and wind instruments is proof of the eastern progress of western jazz. It seems like sending coals to Newcastle, to export pearls from India, but a Bombay Jeweler asks for them, from America. An order for "all grades of glasses" from Santow, China, shows that the celestials have not yet been modernized up to the grand treatment, rejuvenation being the ambition of the glenseng tea-hounds.

WANT DOG FOOD

Belgian police dogs are evidently hungry, since an importer from Antwerp asks for quantities of dog-hiscuits. He also wants 10 tons of canned whale meat, as a sample. Perhaps this, too is for the dogs.

"ICONOCLASTIC PORTRAITS"

There is a curious and highly interesting paragraph in the introduction to G. M. Bradford's "Damaged Souls" that tells the inside story of how that book happened to be written. It is not often that we get such an intimate glimpse of the genesis of a book.

Harper's magazine suggested to Mr.
Bradford that he write a series of what they called "iconoclastic portraits." "Our idea would be," they said, "to go back through our national history and select prominent figures who have loomed overlarge in their own day and have shone with a false glory—lucky creatures of chance or of circumstances who appealed tremendously to the popular imagination of their time." Of course in dealing with such a gallery we should expect you to proceed ruthlessly and with scant deference to tradition.

But Bradford vetoed the idea, declaring that he had no desire to "undermine, to overthrow, to destroy, even the things that deserve it." He pointed out that "in every character I have portrayed so far it has been my endeavor to find the good rather than the evil, so as to give the figure firmly on its common human basis but at the same time to insist that if the human heart were not worth loving,
my work should not be worth doing."

And as a counter-proposition, Mr.
Bradford offered to "do a group of somewhat discredited figures," and not endeavor in any way to rehabilitate or whitewash, but "to bring out their real humanity and show that, after all, they have something of the same strength and weakness as all of us." The result was "Damaged Souls."

WISE IN REFUSAL

There can be no quarrel with Bradford's decision as to what he himself could do and could not do. He is evidently not the man to write the presented "iconoclastic portraits," and he was wise enough not to attempt what he was not fitted by nature and inclination to do. But neither is there any reason to come to take conclusion that it is not very much worth doing by someone else. There is a suggestion to that effect in Bradford's paragraph and however one may agree with Bradford as to his right to choose his own subject and to his own treatment of that subject one can hardly agree with him that "icon-oclastic portraits" are not worth doing. Some of the finest satirical literature would have to be ruled out on that principle.

And even as a practical consideration it would seem that there would be a great deal of virtue in a series of "iconoclastic portraits." There would not only be great delight in the realistic portrayal of the windbags of American history but such a work might tend to make the present generation of citizens more wary of giving their hearts to the present wind-bags. As the magazine suggested in making the proposal to Mr. Bradford, there are a number of figures in American history that are greatly overestimated—mediocrities whom the myth-making propensities of human nature have converted into celebrities and great men. We have been told so often that they are great men that we are never even visited by a doubt about it. The net effect is the propagation of a historical falsehood.

GOOD TO BURST WINDBAG
In rebuttal of Mr. Bradford's position it may be said as a basic principle that a falsehood is never wholesome and that it is always worth while to tell the truth about the great men of our history as it is about everybody else. People who for years worship a windbag and are then treated to the spectacle of seeing the bag punctured will be greatly shocked but if they have the right stuff in them it will be good for them. Illusions if they are not based on truth had better be taken away.

And so it may be hoped that the assignment which Mr. Bradford refused will be taken by someone else
Bradford was probably wise in refusing it because it isn't everybody who could acquire himself of so delicate a task as the writing of "iconoclastic portraits." But it would seem to be work highly worth doing.

14 Campers Start Week At Onaway

Twenty Young Women Leave Camp at End of First Week

BY MURIEL KELLY
Saturday was a big day on Onaway Island because it saw the departure of about 20 of the campers and the arrival of 14 new girls. The new campers arrived at the island shortly after 3 o'clock and the girls who were homeward bound left immediately for Electric dock. The girls were taken to and from camp by a Kimberly-Craig Co. truck.

In order to make room for the new girls and to fill the tents and cabins, Saturday morning was given over largely to moving. At intervals girls with all their bags and baggage and their beds would be seen moving across the camp field. It was quite a task to rearrange some of the tents after they had developed a tent loyalty for a week.

CAMP BIRTHDAY
The camp birthday party on Friday evening was a great success. Ferns, pine needles and bright colored balloons decorated the mess hall for the occasion. Eight birthday cakes were placed about the tables and each was lighted with two candles, one for each year of the camp. Little birthday cakes made by the girls were the place cards.

Toasts were given on the various parts of a tent. Miss Barbara Schmidt talked on the location of a tent for fun. Miss Eleanor Halls on the tent floor. Miss Barbara Timm on the tent flaps which she likened to the athletics. Miss Betty Post on the ropes which she likened to the counselors and Miss Marie Heineman on mosquito netting. Mrs. Dicks, the cook also responded to a toast. Miss Muriel Kelly was toastmistress.

The famous Crystal River trip was taken by the deep water swimmers on Friday afternoon. There was keen disappointment, however, because the water was so high that there were very few spills and of course being tipped out into the water is half the fun of the Crystal river trip. More than 25 campers made the trip while the others were given the afternoon with which to do as they pleased. It was a delightful opportunity for sleep, but many of the girls worked on details of the birthday party.

WEDDINGS

Miss Erna Butter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butter of Seymour, was married at 8 o'clock Saturday evening to Erwin Kimball, son of Ira Kimball, Appleton. The ceremony took place at Seymour, with the Rev. T. Ohlrogge officiating, and the attendants were Barbara Kimball and Harold Meriol. The young couple left for a trip to Milwaukee, Chicago, and Madison, and will return to Appleton where they will make their home.

Discuss Plans For District C. E. Conclave

The convention committees of the Christian Endeavor society of First Congregational church met Sunday afternoon to plan for the efficient working out of convention activities. The conclave will be held in Appleton Aug. 29, 30 and 31, and is to be under the direction of the Green Bay chapter. Wyatt Loomis, president of the Green Bay branch attended the meeting so that he could tell each committee what the program of activity was. The schedule now includes a meeting of the committees every Sunday until all the plans are completed.

PARTIES

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Brooks entertained at dinner at Riverview Country club Saturday evening. About 30 guests, including Appleton and Neenah people attended the party.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bergstrom Jr. entertained about 35 guests at dinner at Riverview Country club Saturday evening. The guest of honor was Mrs. Charles Sage, who formerly lived in Appleton. Mrs. Sage has been visiting relatives and friends in Neenah.

Miss Ruth Dickinson entertained 14 young people at her cottage on Lake Winnebago Saturday evening. Picnic supper was served, and after supper, the party went to Riverview Country club to dance. The guest of honor was Miss Katherine Kettell who has been visiting Miss Martha Price, of Neenah.

J. C. Kimberly, Jr. of Neenah entertained a group of friends at dinner at Riverview Country club Saturday evening. There were about eight young people in the party. Miss Katherine Becker, a former Appleton girl, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Catlin, 490 Rankin-st., for a few weeks, and Miss Gertrude Buchanan, Canada were the out-of-town guests.

Sixty friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. George Heinz Sunday evening at their home at 866 Kernan-ave. The party was given in honor of the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Heinz, and the evening was spent in dancing. Music was furnished by Werner Koletzka and his son. John Heinz of Onkosh was the only out-of-town guest.

A stag party was given Saturday night at the home of G. T. Kamps, 926 Seventh-st. for Joseph Maurer, who returned to his home in Porterville, Calif., Monday. Prizes at cards were won by Ervin Hoffman and George Mader. Twelve guests were present.

Fifty guests were entertained at a supper and dancing party by Mrs. Henry Felzer at her home Saturday evening. Miss Violet Finar entertained the guests with solo dances.

Michael Kappel entertained 25 guests at a supper and dancing party at his home 1365 Rogers-ave, Saturday evening.

She writes all the stories and all the heads that go into her two papers—the Yellow Springs News and the Bath Township Herald—and rustles up all the advertisements and new subscribers beside.

C. E. Honors Memory Of Its Founder

The Christian Endeavor society of First Congregational church held a memorial meeting Sunday afternoon in honor of the Rev. John D. Willard, first pastor of the church and founder of the Christian Endeavor society. The Rev. Willard was pastor of the church for four years, and died when he was a very young man. The services were held at Riverside Cemetery, and the names of the members of the society who have died were read by F. J. Harwood, as flowers were dropped on the graves.

CLUB MEETINGS

The Four Leaf Clover club will meet at the home of Mrs. Emma Casper, 910 Morrison-st., at 2 o'clock Tuesday. Schafkopf will be played during the afternoon.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

An ice cream social will be held in Center on Wednesday evening, July 30. The party will be given on the church lawn of Emmanuel Evangelical church.

2 Families Spent Sunday In Reunion

The fifth annual reunion was held by the Nagreen and Thompson families Sunday at Hopedale dairy farms, Leeman. The day was spent playing games, such as sack races, clothes pin races, three-legged races and others, and dancing was enjoyed. Music was furnished by members of the family. An acrobatic entertainment was staged in the evening by Miss Margaret Hammas.

Members of the family present at the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. Orland Nagreen and family, Leeman; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bowerman and family, Leeman and Mrs. Adolph Schumann and family, Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Nagreen and family, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. ## At the Lakeside

This summer you will enjoy going down the slide, diving from a spring board and frolicking in the cool waters. These refreshing past-times are great fun—but you will want to be wearing the most attractive BATHING SUIT obtainable. Being snappily dressed for the plunge is half the sport, really.

It is a very good plan for everyone to have an extra Bathing Suit. For one thing, guests are apt to arrive at an unexpected moment, and then again it may happen that your best Bathing Suit would not be dry when you want to use it. An extra Suit takes care of these sudden occasions and it is so easy to have several for seldom are prices so moderate as they are here.

Kaukauna RepresentativeADVANCE SALE OF PAGEANT TICKETSAdequate Parking Space for Automobiles Will Be Provided in Ball Park

Kaukauna—Officials of the Kaukauna Pageant association have decided to place tickets for the event on sale this week at the drug stores and at pageant headquarters in the municipal building. Tickets will sell for $1 and will be good for any one night. Children will be admitted for 50 cents. By putting on an advance sale officials hope to avoid congestion at the gate.

Parking space for several thousand automobiles will again be provided with police protection against loss of property. The ball park and a lot adjacent to it will be used.

Another method of advertising the event has been furnished through the courtesy of the local Union Bag and Paper Corporation which has turned over 6,000 one pound paper bags to the advertising committee. A picture of an Indian and the pageant dates have been printed on the bags and they are being distributed to the merchants in this and neighboring cities.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Ernest Timm of Appleton, is spending a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Boettcher. Mr. and Mrs. Will Knickerbocker and family moved to Waupaca Sunday to visit Cactus Knickerbocker.

Edward Mau of Manitowish, spent the weekend at his home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sager and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dreger moved to Oshkosh Sunday.

BOBBERS REQUEST
RIDE; BEAT DRIVER

Oshkosh—Richard Beabaus of Chicago, was attacked by two highway men near Butte des Morts Saturday night and severely beaten. Hours later the men were caught and identified by their victim. They said they were Steve Lihocky and Joe Stahola, both of Chicago. They were trudging in the highway when Beabaus happened along in his car. They asked for a ride and Beabaus stopped and took them in. The men beat him up and ditched the car. Passing motorists, however, frightened the men away before they could rob Beabaus. Both were caught early Sunday in a cornfield.

HIKE TO COAST

Kaukauna—Misses Nettie Lowery and Bessie Louden of Columbus, O., are spending a few weeks at the home of Miss Lowery's mother, Mrs. Andrew Lambie, 817 Lawrence. The young ladies left Columbus Tuesday, July 15 to "hoof it" to the Pacific coast and arrived here last Tuesday. The girls carry only a knapsack containing a change of clothing. They have agreed not to ride on trains but accept lifts from motorists.

They expect to spend six months on the road and plan to work their way when their money gives out. When the ladies leave here they expect to head for Minneapolis, Minn., then Kansas City, Mo., and on to the coast in California.

EQUITY WILL HOLD
COUNTY MEETING
AT BLACK CREEKParticipation in Parade and Picnic Will Be Discussed
on Wednesday

Greenville—Participation in the big county farmers' parade and picnic at Pierce park, Appleton, Aug. 13, will be discussed by the county union or the American Society of Equity at the quarterly business meeting Wednesday at Black Creek.

This meeting is given at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and will conclude about 5 o'clock. The county union usually hold sessions both morning and afternoon but it is believed more farmers will be able to attend if only the afternoon gathering is held. The business will be expedited so all can be accomplished before adjournment.

Equity floats in the parade at Appleton, pending the picnic of Aug. 13 will be considered. Each local also will be urged to have a full attendance of its members at the outing. A number of Equity members are helping in the picnic plans.

LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS
FARMER; IGNITES HOME

Phillips—During a storm John Marek, 48, was instantly killed by lightning at his farm near here. Marek had just come in from the hay field and was lying on the floor when struck. His wife, who was in the same room, was stunned but quickly revived. The lightning set fire to the house and after the woman had dragged the body of her husband out she returned to the house and recovered a sum of money. Neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the fire after the house had been badly damaged. Marek had lived in Price-co 13 years. His wife is his only surviving relative.

INDEPENDENT SLATE
WOULD REFORM VILAS-CO

Eagle River, Wis.—An independent ticket, backed by a combination of Republicans and Democrats, who have adopted the slogan, "Clean county government," will be placed in the field in Vilas-co. The ticket will be headed by Bernard Juve, a candidate for sheriff, and there will be a candidate for every office, except district attorney and county surveyor. The new organization, it is said, will be for strict law enforcement and the campaign will be conducted along educational lines, whereby the voter will be shown how the county business is carried on and what the taxpayers are paying their money for.

NO COMPENSATION IF
STATE CAR HITS YOU

If an automobile bearing a red license plate indicating an official state car comes your way, be especially diligent in avoiding it, for you can't recover damages if you are hit.

In an opinion, T. I. McIntosh, assistant attorney general, points out that injury or property damage by state automobiles constitute a tort action and the state cannot be sued on such a charge. The principle of "the king can do no wrong" is invoked, according to the opinion, and while citizens are given recourse to the legislature and Supreme court in other claims against the state, they cannot recover for personal injury.

It is best to give the name of the firm or residence, and the name of the person speaking, when answering the telephone.

"Hello" is a rather ungraceful little word when used to answer the telephone.

The accepted expression now used generally by particular people is to give the name of the firm or residence and the name of the person speaking. For example:

"Smith & Company, Jones speaking"

"Dr. Brown's office, Miss Smith speaking"

"Dawson's residence, Helen Dawson speaking"

This method eliminates the time-wasting, and hence money-losing, exchange of "Hello" and inquiry as to who is speaking.

Those who have adopted the modern practice agree that it is more courteous and more business-like.

REID WILL SETS FORTH CONDITIONS OF PARK REQUEST

City Attorney Preparing Reports on Use of Alicia Park As Campsite

What action the city council will take in determining the legality of the use of Alicia park as a tourist campsite may depend upon the opinion requested of A. C. Bossert, city attorney. When the city park commission raised the question of legality and suggested that the common council set aside a part of Pierce park for tourists camp purposes, the council referred the matter to the city attorney. Mr. Bossert said he is investigating the matter and may be ready to give a report at the next council meeting, Aug. 5.

The question raised by the commission is whether use of the park as a tourist campsite violates the terms of the will of the donor. When Alexander J. Reid bequeathed the park to the city of Appleton, he did so on two conditions: First, "that said premises shall be kept and maintained as a public park forever," and secondly "that the premises shall bear the name of Alicia park in honor and memory" of the Mr. Reid's deceased wife, Alice J. Reid.

WOULD PROTECT CITY
Appleton has fulfilled the second condition. Whether it has complied with the first term depends upon the interpretation of the words, "public park."

According to B. J. Zuehlke, a member of the park commission, the commissioners feel that there is room for doubt as to whether the premises are used as a public park when it is given over to tourist campers. It was to protect the city and its title to the property that the commission raised the question of legality, he said.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., when asked for an expression of opinion, said that he could see no violation of the terms of the will. He declared he does not understand what should bar the city from allowing automobilists to come into the park and camp there. Nor why such use should make the premises other than a public park.

Besides the two conditions named in the will of the late Mr. Reid who died in 1910, there are six other requests:

1. That the national flag be raised at half mast on May 21 of each year, which is the day of Mrs. Reid's death, and the flag be raised at full mast on Nov. 21 of each year, the day of her birth.
2. That near the entrance of the park a bed of foliage plants exhibiting the name Alice be planted and that it be preserved every summer season.
3. That in the event any of the buildings on the park be sold the proceeds be used to improve the grounds.
4. That the city spend $1,000 every five years in beautifying the park.
5. That the city preserve the live timber on the land and replace the dead with new.
6. That the occupants of the cottages on the premises have the use of it rent free the first year after the will is in effect.

ON THE SCREEN

HOW CAN A POOR GIRL WIN A RICH HUSBAND?

Feature picture at the Elite theater tonight will be the much talked about Distinctive picture, "The Rejected Woman," bringing together for the first time such popular players as Alma Rubens, Conrad Nagel and Wyndham Standing. The drama itself is bound to be of great appeal, dealing with the problem of beautiful women and beautiful clothes and their relation to each other. Also appearing in the picture are Lenora Hughes, internationally celebrated dancer and beauty, and a group of wealthy New York society men and women. Many of the scenes are actually reproductions of such institutions of luxury as Sherry's famous restaurant in

CARRY LIGHT IF YOU MUST WALK ON ROAD

Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke Saturday issued another warning to pedestrians, cyclists and drivers of horse drawn vehicles on the danger of traveling on concrete highways at night without using lanterns. Although the actual number of accidents that result in this manner is small, near accidents of this kind take place almost every night. Persons walking on highways at night are not violating any state law, he admitted, but are risking their lives.

When two cars, both with bright lights, are approaching each other, it is quite impossible for either to see anyone in the shadows along the road, he said. Persons who park their cars on the road without their lamps lighted not only subject themselves to the same dangers, but violate the law besides.

Park Avenue, the Hotel Ambassador and the steamship "Paris."

"The rejected Woman," written by John Lynch, is a story of the gay and brilliant life of a rich New York man, and of the realization of the poor girl who loves him that she can never win his love in return without the expensive finery and culture of the women in his set. These things she must have, because the love of this man is vital to her very existence. How she goes about the acquisition of the coveted requisites of her love campaign, and the price she pays form the basis of an absorbing drama, swift-moving in its action and illuminated by vivid flashes of the inner life of New York's wonderful Park Avenue crowd of jazy youngsters.

"CARNIVAL" IS TRULY A PLAY OF PASSION

The public is not to be kept waiting very long to see "Carnival," the picture that United Artists recently released, and which will be featured at the New Bijou today and Tuesday.

Although not labeled a "super" film, this production is more deserving of the description than most that have claimed the distinction. It is frankly a play of passion.

The story of the young wife who is nearly lured to her downfall by the intoxication of a glorious night of carnival in Venice is fascinating in its passionate presentation. The quality of Matheson Lang and Hilda Bailey's work in this picture sets them amongst the brightest of international screen stars.

LITTLE CHUTE WILL PAVE ANOTHER STREET

The village board of Little Chute will hold a meeting Tuesday evening to open bids for paving a road leading south from highway 15 to the bridge. The county highway committee expects to be present at the meeting, since the county is interested in the project. The board of supervisors last fall appropriated approximately $14,000 for the work.

STATEWIDE SEARCH FOR PAROLE BREAKER

Youth Sent to Reformatory from Appleton Eludes Police

A statewide search has begun for James Gruner, former Appleton man, who is charged with violating his parole from the state reformatory at Green Bay. Gruner was sentenced to Green Bay three years ago for a burglary committed at the local armory.

He had been paroled with a Joseph Morette to persons in Milwaukee, and both disappeared. Morette was sent to Green Bay from Forest-co as a result of a taxicab holdup. Gruner also is implicated in an affair at Neenah several years ago when he is said to have shot at a Neenah policeman. The bullet tore a hole through Policeman Harry Halverson's coat but did not wound him.

Gruner's foster parents live in Appleton. He is about 25 years old. According to the description given out at the reformatory he is about 5 feet 6½ inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, of sallow complexion, grayish blue eyes, medium dark chestnut hair and has seven tattoo marks on his arm.

There are 5,000 cacao estates in Venezuela.

a popular seller in 32 States — a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes — cut for pipes — packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality.

Now we are ready to "tell the world".

An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellow tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder.

There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package. If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents.

But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

A Pointer on Tobacco—

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the fact. Granger is "rough cut" to "cut". Granger is cut for pipes, smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

When I suggested, little Marquise, that I might give up John more easily than the boy he looked hurt, but he managed to ask:

"Then you don't intend to give me up, Leslie?"

For answer I questioned him:

"What do you think would happen in this world, John, if every woman would refuse to forgive the man she married all the sins and mistakes he made before he married her, or, as in your case, before he even knew her? I'm going to try and forget it all, dear. It may take some time but I think I can do it. Oh, John, I want to forget. I want to forget, for unless I do I shall never be happy again."

Jack tried to pull me over to him. "No, don't," I said, involuntarily. "I just can't bear it now, you know."

"Then you haven't really forgiven me."

"Yes, I have—or rather I have nothing to forgive. I just can't quite get over my disappointment in you. I think now there is nothing in all the world so terrible to bear as the disappointment of shattering ideals."

"Some day when I have forgotten, some day when I shall have put the man I thought you were out of my heart, I will, I hope, love the man you really are."

"Leslie, I am only human," Jack said in a suffocating voice.

"I know it—I have just found it out. I made you a god and I have found the feet of clay that all women probably do, who let their love endow a man with superhuman qualities."

It seemed to me I must be alone. I must have time to adjust myself. I got to my feet somewhat unsteadily, and walked into the next room where the baby lay—Jack Alden Prescott Jr.

I felt my lips curl into a rather painful smile as I remembered Jack's mother saying what a terrible thing it was that we should give Jack's name to a baby of whom we knew nothing except that in its veins there was none of that splendid old and staunch Puritan blood of her son's forefathers.

In John Alden Prescott Jr.'s veins was the blood of the old Puritans of which she was so proud, but her loved son had placed the bar sinister across his forehead.

As I thought this, I knew that my duty was clear. It remained for me to give John Alden Prescott, Jr., his father's name. It remained for me to say nothing to anyone not even his mother, of what John had told me. It remained for me to keep silent, even when I knew the scandalous tongues were buzzing about my head.

Swiftly I went toward the little bed upon which my baby was sleeping. Convulsively I clasped him to my heart.

"Oh, baby, baby, you are mine! And I love you perhaps more because out of all the world now, I choose you. And I am proud that I am big enough to give you your father's name. You need never know."

Little Marquise, the tears are blotting the paper. I will write no more. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

One day the Twins, Nancy and Nick, were picking wild flowers in the woods when the funniest little man you ever saw appeared at their feet.

"Hold on there!" he shouted merrily. "Don't pick me, please. I'm not a wild flower—I'm a fairy."

"Oh, you are!" cried the Twins in surprise, dropping down on their knees. "No leafies!"

TWO THOUSAND SEE RUSHITES WIN 14 TO 10 SLUGFEST

Papermakers' Errors Offset Heavy Hitting In Hard, Peppy Contest

Appleton Club Outthinks Invaders, 15 to 14, But Throws Opportunity to Win By Poor Defense.

Appleton Sunday afternoon handed Rush and his Neenah-Menasha tribe a 14 to 10 win at Brandt park despite the fact that the Papermakers outthunk the Pails, 15 to 14. Seven errors for Appleton and two for the invaders marred the swiftest which in all other respects was fast and exciting. More than 2,000 fans crowded the field to capacity, most of them from Neenah-Menasha and Kaukauna, and kept the air filled with hot comment. Rush and Stack both were hit hard from the start, but the Pails' fielding gave them a sufficient advantage to win. The Rushites had a lead of 5 to 0 after their half of the third but then Stack started his own rally with a circuit clout over the wall of the right garden and three hits on the left. The Pails' fielding binned with a couple of boots gave the home team two more tallies. In the fifth the Lamers brothers were responsible for two runs for the Pails when Stumpf purposely fumbled the ball to induce Zelenski to steal and then threw to second. Neither of the Lamers boys was there to cover second and the ball rolled into center field. The Pails piled up four runs before they could be stopped, but the Smithmen came right back with four of their own on clean hitting. Leopold smashed out a homer in the sixth, with the bases clear and four more hits added three runs to the Pails' tally in the sixth. The Papermakers came back only more in the seventh with three runs but Stumpf hit into another double play and ended the rally. The Pails scored their final run in the ninth, but almost lost a good man when Stumpf's peg to second caught Handy on the back of the head and laid him low. Worden ran for him and scored on a sacrifice and an outfield fly.

WORTH SCORES FIRST

Worth led off with a single to left field and made second on a passed ball. Leopold sacrificed him to third and Muench's twobagger brought him home for the first run of the game. A safety and a sacrifice gave the Pails another run in the first stanza and the crowd went wild when it looked like a twofest from the beginning. Bergerino, Marty Lamers and Red Smith skipped the pill to short and were beaten to first one after the other in their half of the inning and the Pails had a two-run advantage. They failed to score in the second despite Les Smith's error and a passed ball which took Handy as far as second, and Ted Lamers' threebagger was wasted when Ambly Weisgerber grounded out to second. Foolish playing in the third gave the invaders three more tallies. Leopold popped up a high infield fly and the two Eddies, Stumpf and Stack went after it but couldn't decide which one should grab it and let it fall to the ground with a sickening thud. Muench made a pretty sacrifice, and the crowd roared when Zelenski walked. Cissa also sacrificed, and when Worden got a life, filling the bases the Pails were thick with yell and cheers. Schlesi's safety through short sent Leopold and Zelenski across the rubber and Worden came in when Red and Les Smith allowed Handy's high fly fall to the grass between them. Schlesi was caught between third and home when he tried to steal.

STACK CLOUTS HOMER

Eddie Stack was the hero of the inning when he clouted the apple over the fence after Stumpf had been retired, and his homer seemed to demoralize the Pails' fielders. Muench star shortstop, fumbled Bergerino's grounder and Dergy reached first safely. After Marty Lamers popped one in Muench's hands Red Smith came through with a single which sent Dergy to third. Then things began to happen. Sylvester slapped a drive directly at Rush who was unable to stop it but struck out his name and shunted it out into the outfield. Bergerino scampared across the rubber before the ball could be fielded and the speedy Red Smith managed to reach third on the play. It looked bad for Rush when Les Smith crashed out of Cissa's defense to the left garden. Stack was getting a hit wild in the second half of the seventh after his mates had failed to make Leopold's threebagger count and he gave Sylvester a free pass to first after sending Red Smith down with three strikes. Eddie Stumpf hit into a double play after Sylvester. Les Smith and Ted Lamers had scored and Ambly Weisgerber was caught with him when Worth, Muench and Leopold pulled the same stunt they had completed in the previous inning. The eighth stanza produced another double play after the Pails failed to profit by Eddie Stumpf's error. Rush grabbed Bergerino's grounder, caught Stack at second and Worth beat Bergerino to first on the throw. A hit, a sacrifice and an error gave the winners another run in the final stanza, while the Papermakers failed to score on Les Smith's safety.

BERGERINO STARTS RALLY

Bergerino's hit for two stations started another Papermaker rally which counted for four runs. Marty Lamers, Ed Smith and Harry Sylvester followed with safeties in succession.

KENOSHA PAIR WINS PRO TITLE IN MAPLE BLUFF GOLF TOURNEY

Jim Rose of Riverview Country Club Regarded As Likely Prospect Monday

By Associated Press. Madison—Jack Blakelee, Kenosha professional, and Dick Cavanaugh, of the Kenosha Country club, former state champion, win the Professional Amateur championship for 1924 at Maple Bluffs Sunday with a best ball score of 68.

In winning the event the Kenosha pair slipped four strokes from the pair of the course but needed every advantage for they were closely pressed by A. B. C. Beck, Sheboygan, and Dave Tosh, professional at La. Crosse, who turned in a 69.

Bim Lovkin, professional, and Frank Kirwin of Green Bay, defending champions, turned in a card of 74. J. Monroe Hunter of Milwaukee and Jack Blakelee shared honors for the low medal score, each turning in a fine 71, one below par.

Monday the professionals get away in a 36-hole grind for the state championship. Neil McIntyre of Fond du Lac, present holder of the title, was somewhat off his game Sunday but is looked upon as a player likely to be a two time champion.

Others who are favored to win include Guy Martin, Madison, Hunter, Jim Rose, Appleton, and Tom Rose, of Oshkosh.

At a business meeting Sunday night Jack McNamara Manitowoc professional was elected president of the Wisconsin Professional Golfers' association. Neil McIntyre of Fond du Lac was elected vice president and Manning Vaughn, Milwaukee sport writer, was named secretary. Kenosha and Oconomowoc invited the professionals to play the next championship over their courses, but decision was left open until next year.

Indians and Cardinals Battle for 15 Innings to Settle Contest

Oshkosh—After being deadlocked for fifteen innings, neither team having the necessary push to put across the needed run, C. Jensen, manager of the Oshkosh Indians Electric Washers, a 3 to 2 win over Fond du Lac. Jones insisted that he use the same ball that was knocked into the grandstand, and after squabbling with the umpire, was benched. Spier hurling the remaining five innings. Klovevov hit a homer over center field fence in the fourth inning. Score:

Diamond Siftings

As usual a lot of poor losers are complaining about the umpire who officiated in the Neenah-Menasha-Appleton State league game Sunday. Some of them claim President T. E. McGillan sent in Tuchscherer a Neenah man with the intention of favoring the Pails. Duex was scheduled to arbitrate in the game but sent word at noon Sunday that he was unable to do so because his wife had become ill. President McGillan left no stone unturned to secure another umpire but found it impossible. He suggested that "Casey" Janssen be put behind the plate and offered to pay Tuchscherer out of his own pocket to watch the bases, but David Smith declined himself satis-

Matsuda Signs Contract To Meet Woman Champion

Matty Matsuda, Japanese wrestling star, has sent in his signed contract to meet Virginia Mercereau, worlds champion woman wrestler, in Armory G here on Aug. 4. If Matty is looking for an easy victory he is due to be surprised. Miss Mercereau's record shows her to be the equal of most men. In the mat game, she has conquered such stars as Hazel Kinnard, Max Kelley and Bobbie Miller, and capped her achievements last Thanksgiving day by taking the title from Cora Livingston.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis has taught her his famous headlock, and several of the Appleton matmen who have been induced to try conclusions with her can testify that she knows all about it. The Appleton men who tried her out at her training quarters also have a wholesome respect from her ability with the scissors hold. This she learned from Farmer Burns, and she has it down to a science. She uses a full Nelson in connection with it and there are few men able to withstand the combination.

Miss Mercereau invites everyone interested in wrestling to visit her at her training quarters or work on the mat. She will pay any man able to stay with her $25, and is training daily with Joe McVey, the big Appleton heavyweight.

KOTEX DROPS 9 TO 8 TILT TO PAPER TEAM

Neenah Club Ties Score Twice During Hit Fight But Loses in Ninth

HOW THEY STAND	W	L	Pct.
Coated Paper	4	1	.800
Kotex	2	2	.500
Fox River	0	3	.000

One of the best games in the Inter-factory league was won, 9 to 8 by the Appleton Coated Paper Co. team from the Kotex club of Neenah. The contest was close after the first four innings, and looked like an extra inning game until the ninth, when the Coated Paper men scored the needed run of Schultz two bagger.

In the fifth the score was tied, 5 to 5, and from then on Mattson, the Kotex pitcher, tightened up and gave Crews a good fight. The climax came in the sixth. With the men on and none down, the Kotex fielders gobbled three high flies and averted disaster. The Kotex team took the lead in the sixth, but it was short-lived, as the Papermen gathered three in the next stanza. Stoum's circuit clout in the eighth with one on tried the score once more, but the Coated Paper Co., managed to grab another run in the final stanza and made it 9 to 8.

led with Tuchscherer who then went in.

Tuchscherer played no favorites in the contest. He called them as he saw them and if he made a few decisions which seemed unfair to some of the fans, it must be remembered that no man is infallible and his decisions which might be questioned were not decisive. There is bound to be a certain amount of "razing" in every contest, but it is not necessary to get personal and abusive as many of the spectators did on Sunday.

The two Smiths, the two Lamers and the two Eddies all got confused in the swiftest and in consequence the Pails scored several runs which otherwise might have been stopped. Stack pitched a good game despite the fact that he was in the hole most of the time but poor support again proved his undoing.

PAIS SHARE FIRST PLACE IN M'GILLAN LOOP WITH BAYMEN

Three Ties Result from Sunday Contests With Chairs and Cards at Bottom

HOW THEY STAND	W	L	Pct.
Neenah-Menasha	2	0	1.000
Green Bay	2	0	1.000
Appleton	1	1	.500
Oshkosh	1	1	.500
Sheboygan	0	2	.000
Fond du Lac	0	2	.000

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

Neenah-Menasha 14, Appleton 10.

Green Bay 10, Sheboygan 6.

Oshkosh 3, Fond du Lac 2.

Green Bay and Neenah-Menasha were tied for first place in the Wisconsin State league after Sunday's contest, while the Papermakers shared third place honors with the Indians and the Chairs and Cardinals trailed along at the rear.

The three contests were extremely interesting and exciting, especially the battle of the Tribe with the Redlegs which went for 15 innings. Green Bay scored its sixth straight win over the Chairs and are headed for the top of the heap.

The Pails had their hands full beating Appleton, but seven errors assured them of victory despite the fact that their rivals pounded Speed Rush for 15 hits while his mates were gathering 14 off Stack.

SHEBOYGAN BOWS TO BAYMEN 10-6

Green Bay Wins Sixth Straight Contest at Expense of Chair City

Green Bay—Green Bay made it six straight here on Sunday by defeating Sheboygan, 10 to 6, in a Wisconsin State league game. The Bays cracked Buster Braun for five hits in the first frame and they were never headed although Wolinski wavered a bit in the eighth stanza and the Chairs cracked up four runs. Tony Schultz had a perfect day at bat with four blows. Bodu got three. Wilson featured for Sheboygan. Four twin killings enlivened the slugging match. The score:

Green Bay	AB R H E

JAP REPORT CLEARS KLAN OF ALL BLAME

Consul General Attributes Anti-Japanese Movement to Labor Troubles

By Associated Press
Tokio — Recent anti-Japanese activities in California, reports of which, printed in leading Japanese newspapers, caused a sensation here, apparently were due to labor troubles. Consul General Oyama, stationed at San Francisco, has reported to the foreign office after an investigation. His report does not mention the Ku Klux Klan.

First reports attributed the activities to the Klan. The consul general said that his inquiry disclosed there had been demonstrations staged at the plants of two fruit packing companies at Hepland, Calif., in which shots were fired.

The foreign office intends to leave the matter in the hands of Mr. Oyama.

GIDEONS REELECT FORMER CHIEFTAIN

By Associated Press

Madison — Installation of officers and devotional services closed the silver anniversary convention of the national order of Gideon Society of Christian Travelling Salesmen here Sunday night. Samuel R. Eggers, Philadelphia, reelected president, in the closing address of the convention urged Gideons to carry forth the work of their organization during the coming year and to combat evil of all forms.

He urged Gideons to adopt the slogan "No tolerance of evil" and "No compromise of truth." Resolutions adopted by the convention included support of "blue laws" and prohibition statutes; favoring an international agreement regulating the growth of the poppy to control the sale of narcotics; affirmation of the Bible as the cornerstone of world peace.

The new officers are: Samuel R. Eggers, Philadelphia, president; W. D. Gillespie, Fargo, N. D., vice president; O. C. Parks, Hutchinson, Kas., chaplain; F. J. Focke, Chicago, treasurer.

DOGS NOW TRAINED ON OLD DRILL FIELD

Berlin, — One of the Berlin parade grounds, where ex-Kaiser William used to review his crack regiments, has been taken over for the training of police dogs by the Deutscher Schaeferhund Verein. There are 33,000 members of the society which has branches in virtually every town and city in Germany and where weekly meets are held to teach the young dogs new tricks and at the same time keep the old dogs in trim. Most members of the organization are private individuals who really have nothing at all to do with police work but take an interest in the drills and competitions merely as a matter of sport.

Much patience is required to teach the beginners obedience and discipline and for this course alone eight weeks are required, the young dogs being in the hands of professional trainers who usually are added in their work by the owners of the dogs themselves.

After the elementary grade is passed most of the dogs are put through a course designed to protect their masters from attack by man, either in the street or in their master's home. Some dogs too are taught to attack intruders and some are usually young men engaged as dummies for this work and who wear enormous padded suits which gives them appearance of big fat men or deep sea divers all ready for work.

BOLT STRIKES HOUSE AND KILLS PROPRIETOR

Phillips — During a storm John Marek, 48, was instantly killed by lightning at his farm near here. Marek had just come from the hay field and was lying on the floor when struck. His wife, who was in the same room, was stunned but quickly revived. The lightning set fire to the house and after the woman had dragged the body of her husband out she returned to the house and recovered a sum of money. Neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the fire after the house had been badly damaged. Marek had lived in Phillips thirteen years. His wife is his only surviving relative.

FIFTH WARD GETS 33 OUT OF 86 NEW HOMES IN APPLETON

Home Building Most Extensive in North and West Portions of City

Home building seems to be a thing of the past in the Second ward, for up to this date not a single permit has been issued for that purpose in that section of the city. Commercial buildings are the common type of structure being erected in the ward. The Fifth ward leads all others in the number of new homes going up. Besides leading its nearest rival, the Sixth ward, by a comfortable margin, it has more than one-third of all the homes now being built. It also tops the list in the number of garages. But few homes are being built in the Fourth ward and the same applies to the construction of private garages for that part of the city. New homes seem to cluster about parks, for there are a number in the vicinity of Bellafre park, eight new homes in Highland park addition near Erb park, and eight new homes in Fairview addition in the vicinity of Pierce park.

Home building on the whole, is behind last year. The total for the city on July 19 was $6, which was hardly more than one-half of the home building permits issued up to the same time a year ago. Following is the building inspector's record of new homes and garages by wards:

First ward, 12 homes, 33 garages;
Second ward, no homes, 8 garages;
Third ward, 13 homes, 24 garages;
Fourth ward, 15 homes, 12 garages;
Fifth ward, 33 homes, 51 garages;
Sixth ward, 21 homes, 29 garages.

20 MEN WILL ACT AS BONUS CLERKS

Quick Service Will Be Given Veterans at 2-Day City Hall Office

An opportunity will be given to all World War veterans who have not as yet made application for their adjustment compensation to do so Monday and Tuesday evenings at the special office at the city hall. Oney Johnston post of the American legion is in charge. The office will be open at 7 o'clock. Efforts are being made to have 20 men as assistants so that quick service can be given to applicants in filling out the blanks. The officers of the legion urge service men to make application at this time, in order that the work may be finished up. Every legionnaire in the county is being notified as to the location of the new office. More than 500 applications have been completed, several of which were made by tourists.

REVIEW BOARD STARTS ITS TWO WEEKS' SESSION

The city board of equalization held a postponed meeting Monday morning in the council chambers of the city hall to review the 1924 assessments just completed by A. C. Rule, city assessor, and to hear complaints on assessments. The board will, according to law, be in session for two weeks.

INCREASE MEMBERSHIP DUES IN COUNTRY CLUB

A business meeting was held Saturday evening following dinner at Riverview Country club, at which the financial statement and budget of the club was placed before the members. Several problems which have been under discussion for some time were decided, among them being the question of raising the membership limit to 300 persons, in view of the fact that the waiting list has grown rather rapidly in the last year. Membership dues were increased 50 per cent and the membership limit was fixed at 300.

Sailors Try Out Boats For Annual Races

Activity is being manifested among the sailors of the Fox river valley, on account of the approaching regatta to be held on Lake Minnetonka Aug. 13-15. Boats are being overhauled carefully, and races are staged every day so that the crews will be in good fighting trim. About sixty persons from Appleton and Neenah will attend the regatta, and it is expected that there will be as good a showing at Minnetonka as the rival sailors made here last summer. Class A boats to be taken to the regatta belong to F. S. Shattuck, Jack Kimberly, W. Davis, of Neenah, and Carl Steiger of Oshkosh. Other entries have not been announced. Two or three class C boats will be entered. It is thought, although the number of small boats does not approach the Minnetonka delegation last year. Because of the success of the 1923 regatta held on Lake Winnebago, local men hope that Oshkosh, Lake Geneva and Minnetonka will agree to return next year.

DANCE FOR SHOEMEN AT FOND DU LAC CONVENTION

Plans for a summer meeting of the Wisconsin Retail Clothiers association to be held in Fond du Lac Aug. 5 and 6 were discussed at a meeting of a committee Friday in that city. A program for the business meetings and general entertainment is to be announced shortly. One of the entertainment features will be a dinner dance at the Town and Country club at Fond du Lac the evening of Aug. 5.

A Paint that Keeps Itself Bright and Clean

Painted with BARRELED SUNLIGHT surfaces literally do "keep themselves clean." BARRELED SUNLIGHT produces a smooth, white lustrous surface that resists dust and dirt. It can be washed as easily as tile. The finish of BARRELED SUNLIGHT is the whitest white imaginable. Ideal for walls and woodwork. Costs less than enamel, requires fewer coats and is easier to apply. Ready mixed in cans from half-pint to five-gallon size. May be tinted where desired.

WANT REFERENDUM ON ROAD BUILDING

Whether more concrete roads shall be built in Winnebago-co., or whether the county shall declare holiday in road construction may be submitted as a referendum to the voters at the fall election, according to an Oshkosh newspaper. The county board of supervisors will not meet until November, but the signatures of 1,247 voters to a petition for a referendum on a bond issue will compel the county clerk to submit the matter to the voters. A movement to have the electors vote on the question of further bond issues has already begun in that county. Some business men and farmers are advocating a letup in extensive road paving for a time, as they believe that business and agriculture are pressed rather hard at this time.

15 CITIES TRYING FOR $1,000 PRIZE

The rivalry for the $1,000 prize to be given in the statewide Better Cities contest will be between 13 cities, as far as present entries are concerned. The race is confined to the following: Appleton, Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Wausau, Ripon, Janesville, Beloit, Whitewater, Merrill, Waubesa and Ladysmith.

The contest is open to cities of the second third and fourth class and aims to stimulate pride in those aspects of civic life affecting child welfare, family life, and community well-being, to promote civic activities improving conditions and morals.

health, recreation, education and other projects. The contest will last for a year until June 1, 1925. Mrs. Charles Emden, 695 Oneida-st., will spend the week with her sister, Mrs. L. R. Leonard, at Lakeside, a resort near Marinette.

Admiring Friends Remark About Her Youthful Form

EVERYWHERE one hears admiration expressed for the woman who keeps her figure youthful. Yet it is a simple matter. By eating a delicious food, Jack Sprat, your weight can quickly be reduced.

What Causes Fat?

The principal cause of overweight, dietitians agree, is excess starch in the food we eat. White bread is overloaded with starch; so are potatoes, pastries, rolls, etc. And starch makes fat!

Jack Sprat Bread combats fat. It is low in starch content, but rich in nourishment—protein—vitamines and mineral salts as provided by nature. Eat Jack Sprat in place of other breads and similar fattening foods, and watch your weight come down!

Eat 3 Loaves a Week

To get maximum results from Jack Sprat, eat it at all meals; get three loaves every week. Note Jack Sprat's delicious, tangy flavor. Note, too, how it aids digestion and elimination. We use a special, costly, anti-starch flour blended under our secret formula, and double the ordinary amount of yeast in baking Jack Sprat.

Read my guarantee at the top of this advertisement. Get the happy Jack Sprat habit today!
